DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 30-34, 40 and 44-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McCormick et al. (hereinafter McCormick) (US 6,169,894) in view of Peters et al. (hereinafter Peters) (US 6246430).

Regarding claim 30, McCormick discloses a method for providing transmission of a selected media program to a plurality of wireless handsets deployed in a wireless network having at least one cell site coverage area associated therewith (Abstract and Figure 1), the method comprising:

receiving a request to receive a selected media program from a wireless handset in the cell site coverage area (Figure 3, steps 300 and column 6, lines 17 to 27);

establishing a wireless channel upon which to broadcast the selected media program in the cell site coverage area (Figure 3, step 310 and col. 6, lines 30-50);

broadcasting the selected media program to the wireless handset over the wireless channel as one-way phone call having no return audio path (muting the reverse voice channels during such broadcast, abstract; local cell site mutes the voice channel of the particular mobile unit such that the mobile unit user does not interfere with the broadcast channel, col. 6, lines 60-65);

establishing a return data-command path over the wireless channel adapted to receive a media selection or a phone call from the wireless handset(transmits the feature code ... is a request for information over a broadcast channel, col. 6, line 29; reverse message channel, col. 6, lines 65-66; col. 6, lines 16-67).

McCormick did not disclose specifically the request corresponding to a selection from a list of available media programs presented to a subscriber on a display of the wireless handset. However, Peters teaches in an analogous art a method wherein the request corresponding to a selection from a list of available media programs presented to a subscriber on a display of the wireless handset(col. 2, lines 62-67; col. 3, lines 1-10 and lines 46-67; server transmits a list of the different video signal in the form of a menu to the customer equipment...the desired selection number is entered by the customer via the numeric keypad). Therefore, it would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of invention to use a method wherein the request corresponding to a selection from a list of available media programs presented to a subscriber on a display of the wireless handset in order to make the selection user friendly)

Claim 40 is rejected for the same reason as set forth in claim 30.

McCormick discloses all the steps/elements of dependent claims 31 and 47, including, wherein the selected media program comprises a selection from a group consisting of: a cable program, a television program, a satellite program, and a radio program (column 3, lines 39 to 44).

McCormick discloses all the steps/elements of dependent claims 32 and 45, including wherein the selected media program comprises a pre-recorded media program (Col. 3, lines 35-62).

McCormick discloses all the steps/elements of dependent claims 33 and 46, including wherein the selected media program comprises a real-time transmission (Col. 3, lines 35-62).

McCormick discloses all the steps/elements of dependent claims 34 and 48, including wherein the selected media program comprises a selection from a group consisting of: audio program (Id.), video program, and data transmission (Id.).

McCormick discloses all the elements of dependent claim 44, wherein the source provider is the wireless network (local cell and Figure 1).

McCormick discloses all the elements of dependent claim 49, wherein the wireless network communication scheme comprises a selection from a group consisting of: TDMA, FDMA, and CDMA (column 6, line 35).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims have been considered but are moot in view of new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
